PRESS2NAME

The Name Foundry — names for towns, wild places, ruins, shops, roads and whole regions,
spun a part at a time and patched together by hand.

About this sample

Right up front

This is the Lite edition of the Name Foundry — the whole book, with one shelf unlocked. Everything is here: all six shelves, every bench, every list page. One of them works.

Unlocked in this Lite

Settlements — the full bench. Spin a descriptor, snap on a form, season it if you like, and write the keepers on its list pages. It works exactly as it does in the full foundry — same wheels, same words. Nothing here is a demo mode.

Locked — available in full version

Wild Geography, Ruins & Strongholds, Shops & Buildings, Roads, and Regions are drawn in full and labelled where they sleep. Their benches still turn pages and their lists still take ink — but the wheels wake up only in the full version.

The full version

Press2Name — The Name Foundry, $19.99 in the Writing Tools section of this shop: all six shelves unlocked, every bench live, all 24 list pages chained end to end. The machinery you can tap in here is the real machinery, in miniature.

Front door

HOW THE FOUNDRY WORKS

Pick a shelf. Six categories wait at the front door — settlements, wild geography, ruins, shops, roads, regions. Each opens on its own chapter page, and the tabs down the right edge of every bench hop you sideways from shelf to shelf.

Work the bench. Every result page is the bench: the word you spun sits at the top, the seasoning strip under it, and BOTH wheels below — descriptor left, location right. Spin any of them, any order, as often as you like. A form names its family as it lands: a hovel is not a manor.

Patch it together. The foundry supplies the parts; the name is yours. Ember + ford. The Crown + and Anchor. The book gets you close — your hand finishes it.

Keep the keepers. Every shelf keeps a list: ruled pages for the names you make — the parts, the name itself, and the sparks that did not fit. The lists wait under THE LISTS at the front door, and each shelf's list runs straight into the next, like a notebook. A name spun and not written down is a name lost — write the keepers.

Season to taste. The strip under the result holds only real seasonings — Old, New, Upper, First. It never lands on nothing: you tap it only when you want one.

THE LISTS »

THE LISTS

Every shelf's list, in one place — flip through them like a notebook.

SETTLEMENTS

Towns get working names — plain, safe, and proud of the trade that feeds them.

WILD GEOGRAPHY

Wild places get warning names — the name is the rumor of what waits there.

RUINS & STRONGHOLDS

Ruins get history names — every one of these is half a story.

SHOPS & BUILDINGS

Shops get sign names — spin twice and pair them: The Crown and Anchor.

ROADS

Roads wear owners and old habits — the Old Salt Way, the Pilgrim Road.

REGIONS

Regions brood — The Howling Waste, the Ashen Reach.

SETTLEMENTS – THE LIST

Towns get working names – plain, safe, and proud of the trade that feeds them.

SETTLEMENTS

Working names for the places people live. A settlement is named for what it does, who founded it, or what it sells — plain words, honestly earned. Spin a descriptor, snap on a form, and the town sounds like it pays its taxes.

WILD GEOGRAPHY

Warning names for the wild places. Geography is named by the people who survived it — for the creature, the omen, the weather. If a name sounds like a rumor, it is doing its job.

SHOPS & BUILDINGS

Sign names for the places that sell. A shop is not named like a place at all — it is named like the picture on its hanging sign. Spin the left box twice and pair the words, or take a trade from the right-hand box.

THE FOUNDRY RESTS

Every name in your worlds started as two small words and a tap. Spin honestly, write the keepers down, and let the near-misses fill your sparks columns —
they are tomorrow's names, waiting.

THE FULL FOUNDRY

This Lite unlocked one shelf of six. The full Press2Name opens every shelf — all six benches live, all 24 list pages — for $19.99 in the Writing Tools section of this shop.

We owe you a penny.

Press2Name is a Press2Play book, invented at Penny-Free Press.
